

HIKE NATIONAL RESERVE LLANQUIHUE & CALBUCO VOLCANO

The Calbuco Volcano is part of the group of stratovolcanoes located in the Lakes District. This very active cone of 2.000 mts. had its last eruption on 2015 generating a big change in all the landscape around. This incredible hike will take us very close to the crater, crossing the trails of the National Reserve Llanquihue, admiring the regeneration of the native forests, waterfalls, fauna and of course the impressive dome at the summit of the mountain. The trail is a medium difficulty trail of 14 kilometers, with soft ascends at the beginning and a more demanding part at the very last portion before the refugio (shelter). If the climate permits, we will approach very close to the summit of the mountain with spectacular views over the surroundings lakes and mountains.

Destinations	National Reserve Llanquihue
Departure	Puerto Varas
Length	Full day
Difficulty	Medium
Activities	Hike Photo opportunity Flora, fauna and geological observation
Meals	Box lunch
Transportation	Professional Driver with license A2, modern vehicles, private terrestrial transportation
Insurances	Metlife coverage for each traveller between 18 and 64 years old
Equipment provided	Extra set of binoculars available upon request, magnifying glasses, walking poles upon request. Naturalist literature available for consulting during the tour. Water.
Equipment required	Waterproof clothing, sunscreen, hat, comfortable shoes and hiking boots, reusable bottle for water refill. *IMPORTANT: During the month of January we suggest to wear light color clothing due the presence of Scaptia lata (Horsefly) attracted by dark colors.
Guide	Professional Bilingual Naturalist guide with International WFR
Minimum of passengers	This trip is guaranteed to depart with a minimum of two participants. Maximum 8 participants.
Sustainability	0% Plastic emissions, Carbon Print compensation, Water to refill reusable bottles, small groups for low impact, 100% of the waste produced recycled, Conservation/Educational Programs supported through your booking